

Beautiful More

By Thomas Whitson

In a beautiful land by a beautiful shore
Beautiful people live fast and live for
Their beautiful cars and beautiful houses
While somehow forgetting their children and spouses

In beautiful beds close their beautiful eyes
See the lives they are living are beautiful lies
Knowing when they give up their beautiful ghosts
They'll see life's not about always having the most

But till that beautiful day they'll live fast and live for
The hoarding and hoarding of Beautiful More
